HOME DEPARTMENT.

JUDICIAL.

Delhi, the 6*th February* 1914.

No. 864-C.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 27 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878), the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the name of Rani Marwai Kumari Devi of Bhinga be substituted for that of the late Raja Udai Partab Singh, C.S.I., of Bhinga, in clause 19 (b) of Schedule I of the Indian Arms Rules, 1908.

Fort St. George, March 10, 1914.

No. 205.—Whereas it appears to the Governor in Council on the grounds set out below that a certain leaflet in the English language entitled "South African horrors" "a drama in five scenes" contains words which are likely and may have a tendency directly or indirectly (1) to incite to acts of violence, (2) to incite disaffection towards His Majesty, (3) to bring into hatred or contempt His Majesty's European subjects in British India, the Governor in Council, in exercise of the powers under section 12 of Act I of 1910, hereby declares all copies of the above leaflet wherever found to be forfeited to His Majesty.

The grounds of the opinion of the Governor in Council are that the soliloquy in scene V contains language about the behaviour and customs of Europeans which is of the nature referred to in section 4, clause (c), and that the whole of the soliloquy from the words "Yonder I see the British flag" to the end of the leaflet, is likely to have a tendency indirectly (i) to incite to acts of violence, (2) to excite disaffection towards His Majesty.

He will be given Rs. 200 a month in the first year of his probation. In the second year, he will be paid Rs. 300 a month on passing either part of the departmental examination prescribed, and, on completion of two years' service, he will be paid Rs. 400 a month, subject to the condition that he has passed the departmental examinations in full and is confirmed in the department. Thereafter, his pay will be fixed according to the general time-scale (referred to in the next paragraph), Rs. 500 being taken as the starting point. It will be open to the Government of India, at any time, to terminate the probationer's probation and to dispense with his services.

5. At present, the Imperial Customs Service consists of 28 appointments and is constituted as follows:—

1 Collector, class I, on Rs. 2,500 a month. 2 Collectors, class II, on Rs. 2,250 a month each. 2 Collectors, class III, on Rs. 2,050 a month each.	Three of these appointments are reserved for members of the Indian Civil Service.

Officers posted to Calcutta, Bombay and Rangoon are given a local allowance varying from Rs. 75 to Rs. 250 a month.

Increments may be drawn by officers who have been confirmed in the department from the date on which they are due; but the Government of India reserve to themselves the right of withholding or withdrawing such increments on account of misconduct or inefficiency. All time spent on leave with allowances on foreign service or on deputation on special duty, will count on service for increment, in the absence of orders in any particular case to the contrary; time spent on leave without allowances will so count, subject to the provision of article 180-B of the Civil Service Regulations.

The following resolutions of the Government of India are republished:—

COMMERCIAL EXHIBITIONS.

ANGLO-AMERICAN EXPOSITION, LONDON.

Delhi, the 16th February 1914.

No. 898—927—6.

RESOLUTION.—The following information relative to the Anglo-American Exposition which will be held in London between May and October 1914 is published for general information.

The Government of India have decided not to participate in the Exposition

ANGLO-AMERICAN EXPOSITION, LONDON (SHEPHERD'S BUSH), 1914.

The object of the Anglo-American Exposition is to celebrate in a fitting manner the hundred years of Peace and Progress between the English-speaking peoples since the Treaty of Ghent in 1814. What more appropriate means could be adopted to commemorate these epoch-making events than to materialise in a magnificent great display the great gains which have accrued to mankind through the peaceful development of Great Britain and the United States of America during the past century? The Exposition will be held at Shepherd's Bush, London, between May and October of 1914 and will demonstrate in a practical manner the progress which has been made by the British and American people in every branch of civilisation during that century, and will place on view in chronological order the great achievements of that epoch—from inception to perfection—showing not only how each nation has improved on its own inventions, but also where both have worked hand in hand to perfect the creation of the other. There there will be unfolded the rich treasures of a hundred years of British and American Art.

A hundred years of the history of the two nations—their famous Statesmen, Authors, Artists, Inventors, Philanthropists, Financiers, Merchants, Manufacturers, and others. Men and women who have helped in the advancement of civilisation and in making each nation what it is to day will be represented, with such objects of historical interest as are associated with them and their times.

A hundred years of progress in Education, Science, Literature, Inventions and Productions, Improvements and Comforts in Social Life, Betterment of the conditions of Working Men and Women.

In placing before the world the fruits of the intellect and genius of the people of both nations, what a great opportunity presents itself of showing in practical ways the advancement in Navigation; in Railway Transport; in Girder, Suspension, and Cantilever Bridges. The use of Steel in Architecture, the boring of Tunnels Underground and Over-head Railways, Aqueducts, Lighthouses, the work of the Panama Canal. Printing—from the simple hand press to the modern rotary press and Linotype—Lithography, Electricity, Electric and Hydraulic Power, Coal gas and Electric Light, the Strange of Power, Pneumatic Dispatch, the Telegraph, Telephone and Wireless, Phonograph and Graphophone.

Photography—from the Daguerreotype to Coloured and Animated Photography. The invention and creation of new Metals, the advancement in Mining, the utilisation of Rubber, Celluloid'ing and Recording Instruments, the great advance in Agricultural Machinery and all kinds of Labour-saving Devices, the marvellous achievements in Chemistry—in fact, the harnessing of the very Elements for the use and comfort of the nations.

No Exposition has ever been afforded such unique and interesting opportunities, and certainly there never was an occasion more fitting for a great Exposition of the work and achievements of two nations of the same blood, celebrating their hundredth anniversary of peace and concord, whose people of the same family, although separated by a great ocean, will be able to join hand in hand to unite in shaping their mutual destinies and as kinsmen advancing the welfare of humanity and of the whole civilised world.

Great Britain is now the largest customer of the United States and the United States is a valued consumer of British products; and the conjunction of the respective products of the two countries will provide a suitable stimulus for the still further increase of their mutual trade.

The Anglo-American Exposition was inaugurated at a large and influential meeting held at the Mansion House on March 26th, 1913, under the Presidency of the Lord Mayor of London, at whichhall parts of the United Kingdom were represented.

The Lord Mayor, in addressing the distinguished assembly, stated that the Exposition would do much to maintain and strengthen the bonds of friendship which exist to-day, and had existed for so long, between the peoples of the two great nations. Great Britain was the largest customer of the United States, and they were almost our largest customer. In 1913 the Exports to England amounted to over $561,000,000, to the next largest, Germany, $346,000,000 odd The imports were, from Great Britain and Ireland, $274,940,702,—nearly $274,000,000, and next from Germany, $171,380,380. These figures showed what an enormous trade there was between the two countries, but the greatest bond of all was the feeling of friendship and kinship which united the two countries, and which the Exposition would do much to cement, strengthen, and improve.

The following resolution, which was warmly supported by the Lord Mayor of Cardiff who came from Wales and many other distinguished gentlemen who came from all parts of Great Britain expressly to attend the meeting was unanimously carried with acclamation :—

"London and the United Kingdom welcome the Anglo-American Exposition to be held at Shepherd's Bush next year, in celebration of the hundred years of peace and progress of the English-speaking peoples, as a means of strengthening the bond of friendship and kinship between the American and British nations, of drawing them closer together, and of further developing their great commercial and industrial relations"

It was also resolved—

"That all profits shall be devoted to some public objects of national utility to the United Kingdom and the United States"

The whole assembly pledged themselves to do everything in their power to make the Anglo-American Exposition to be held in London in 1914 a great success.

The imposing Exposition Palaces, most decorative in architectural design, containing 1,000,000 square feet of floor space and entirely fireproof, nothing but steel and concrete having been used in their construction, have been erected in the most beautifully laid out Grounds with its Gardens, Lakes, and Lagoons. These buildings are now ready for the reception and installation of American and British Exhibits, practically a year before the opening of the Exposition, Sept for the 1st May 1914 The plan, which shows the allotment of the various buildings to the different classes of Exhibits, gives also a comprehensive idea of the importance of the scheme. About 20 acres are also available for the erection of Government, States, Cities, and Colonial buildings and pavilions, as well as out-door Exhibits.

The Fine Art Palace, which has been pronounced the largest and best equipped building of its kind in Europe, containing 36 galleries for paintings in addition to the superb central Sculpture Hall, covering 30,000 square feet, will be devoted to a collection of American and British modern and retrospective art, such as it is believed has never been brought together in any Exposition in Europe.

The Congress Hall, situated in the centre of the Exposition grounds, will be devoted to Congresses and Conferences on subjects of interest to America and the British Empire.

The Exposition Grounds at Shepherd's Bush, within 15 minutes of the centre of London's main thoroughfare, cover over 100 acres. The main entrance is connected directly with the terminus of the Central London Railway and the Metropolitan and Great Western Railway Station, and is also in close proximity to the West London, London and North Western, Great Western, London and South Western Railways, and in direct communication with the District, North London, London Brighton and South Coast, South Eastern and Chatham, and the Great Central Railways, in the centre of a network of tramways and omnibuses affording easy means of communication with all parts. The various methods of transport are capable of conveying to the spot over 80,000 persons per hour, or nearly a million visitors per day. Favourable arrangements for the conveyance of passengers have been made with the Lines of Railways by which travellers reach London from the Continent and elsewhere, and frequent excursion trains will run direct to the Exposition from the various provincial centres of population.

The musical arrangements will be upon a scale of magnitude unprecedented at any Exposition ever held in London, and will include a number of the best bands of the British Guards, as well as American bands of the highest possible standard, furnishing continuous music from the opening to the closing of the Exposition daily.

The Great Stadium (the largest in the World), which has a seating capacity for 100,000 people, will form part of the Exposition, and possesses the finest running and cycle track, as well as the splendid swimming tank 100 metres in length. It is intended to organise International Sports, Historical Pageants, Spectacular Productions, and Fireworks.

Facilities will be given to exhibitors and visitors by the establishment of a commercial bureau, by which visitors can at once obtain full information as to the locality where every exhibit can be found, its nature and character, and the literature which has been prepared in connection with it.

The Board of Trade has certified the Anglo-American Exposition under the provisions of the Patents and Designs Act, 1907.

Diplomas for Grand Prizes, Gold, Silver, and Bronze Medals and Honourable Mention will be granted to exhibitors upon the award of an International Jury.

The Garden Club, under the Presidency of His Highness the Duke of Teck, which already numbers several thousands of distinguished members, will form the centre of social life of the Exposition.

SHIPPING, ENGINEERING AND MACHINERY EXHIBITION.

Delhi, the 14th February 1914.

No. 883—880-6.

Resolution.—The following information relative to the Shipping, Engineering and Machinery Exhibition which will be held in London in September and October 1914 is published for general information:—

SHIPPING, ENGINEERING AND MACHINERY EXHIBITION, OLYMPIA, LONDON.

September 25th to October 17th, 1914.

Organized by the Trade on Co-operative Principles.

Prospectus.

The need of the Exhibition.

There has been no fully representative Shipping, Engineering and Machinery Exhibition in London for many years, and in view of the great importance of the Naval, Shipping, and General Engineering Industries of this country, it has been decided to hold such an Exhibition in the Autumn of 1914.

For this purpose Olympia, the second largest Exhibition Hall in the world, has been taken for an Exhibition to be held from September 25th to October 17th, 1914, inclusive.

It is proposed in connection with this Exhibition to devote the main body of the Hall to Naval and Shipping Exhibits, and also important Exhibits of Marine and General Engineering Appliances, working or otherwise.

The only two Exhibitions of importance of this character which have been held in this country for the last thirty years are the Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering and Fisheries Exhibition at Tynemouth, September, 1881, and the Naval and Mercantile Marine Exhibition at Olympia in 1910, and it is therefore considered that the time is ripe to hold a really representative and comprehensive Exhibition of Specialities connected with these great Industries, particularly in view of the remarkable advances during recent years in all directions.

This Exhibition will be run on the Co-operative Principle, every Exhibitor having a direct interest in the undertaking. An Exhibitor's Committee will be formed to control the general organization. The profits will be allocated partly to exhibitors by way of rebate on space and partly to the Managers as a fee for their services

Allocation of profits.

It is proposed that a bonus of not less than 20 per cent. on the value of space taken by each individual exhibitor shall be declared before the Managers receive any share of the profits.

The fact that the Managers have been associated during the last twelve years with numerous successful Technical Exhibitions is sufficient evidence of the organising capacity at the back of this enterprise. The last of the series of which they were Organising Managers, namely, the Engineering and Machinery Exhibition, Olympia, 1912, was stated on every hand to be the most successful Exhibition of its kind ever held.

The organisers in connection with previous exhibitions.

It is proposed to devote the whole of the Wall Space on the Blythe Road side to exhibits of Gas Engines and Suction Gas Plants, and the Wall Space, on the Hammersmith side to demonstrations of Acetylene Welding and Cutting, this particular process having come very much to the front in connection with Marine Engineering during the past two years; and the aim generally will be to systematize the exhibits as far as possible.

Gas engines and acetylene plant.

Exhibits of Accessories, Journals, and Office Appliances will not be allowed in the main Hall. This will be reserved entirely for firms manufacturing Heavy Machinery, Naval and Shipping Appliances, &c.

General.

The price will be as usual at Olympia, Rs. 4 to Rs. 2-8 per square foot, according to position, and will include the provision of Platforms, on hire, free of charge to Exhibitors, throughout the Hall.

Price of space.

Special consideration will be given to the question of the quick and economical handling of goods, and the Management hope to make arrangements with various contractors whereby Exhibitors will be able to have their goods, of all classes, received and lifted at fixed rates.

Handling of Goods.

Electric current for power purposes and lighting and water-supply service will be provided to the fullest extent of the facilities at Olympia, and at the rates charged by Olympia (1912), Ltd., so as to enable Exhibitors to show their specialities in motion. Provision will also be made for the supply of steam.

Power.

A special publicity department will be formed so as to attract buyers from Colonial and Foreign Countries as well as from the manufacturing centres of Great Britain, and at least 5,000 Special Invitation Tickets will be sent to Government and other engineers throughout the world. Advertisements will be placed with the leading technical papers, and a Press Bureau formed under the management of an expert. Advance particulars will be sent to the technical and daily papers from time to time, and all facilities afforded them of dealing adequately with the Exhibition. Every endeavour will be made through foreign correspondents to arrange for special excursions to the Exhibition, from France and other countries, of engineers and others interested in the exhibits. It has been found that excursions of this kind increase the commercial value of Trade Exhibitions, resulting, as they do, in the opening up of many new and valuable connections.

Publicity.

Addison Road Station, adjoining Olympia, is in direct railway communication with all the great lines of Great Britain.

Railway Facilities.

The Organizers will have the assistance of a strong Committee of leading Engineers, and this is a guarantee that the wishes of the general body of Exhibitors with regard to the organization of the Exhibition will, as far as possible, be carried out.

Committee.

A suitable space will be allotted for an Exhibitors' Club and Writing Room, which will be catered for by Messrs. Joseph Lyons & Co., Ltd., Tea and Light Refreshments being provided at reasonable rates. Each Exhibitor's Season Ticket includes Membership of Club.

Exhibitors' Club.

2. Chemistry.—Candidates in this subject will be permitted, if they desire it, to use a stencil for making drawings of apparatus.

3 Shorthand.—Candidates in this subject will be allowed to transcribe their shorthand notes with a type-writer. They will not be supplied with any "thick" paper for the purpose, but will be allowed to bring with them their own "thick" paper, if they wish to use such paper. If the machine used by a candidate, however, goes out of order, no extra time will be given to him to compensate for loss of time while the machine is out of order and being put right.

4. Type-writing.—Heads of institutions who are desirous that their pupils in this subject should be examined in batches, should make the necessary arrangements with the Chief Superintendent concerned three days before the examination in this subject and furnish him with all necessary information as to the number of candidates and machines and the time at which each batch should attend on the day fixed for the examination.

At least every four candidates must have one machine among them for the batch examination.

Instructors of institutions concerned will be allowed into the examination room in the intervals between the examinations of the various batches to inspect the machines and to remedy any defects.

If a candidate reports to the Superintendent that his machine has gone out of order, the Superintendent will intimate the fact to the instructor if he is waiting outside on the premises, and will permit him to enter the room (though the candidates may be at work) to inspect the machine and to remedy the defect or to supply another machine. It must, however, be clearly understood that the Superintendent incurs no responsibility in this matter; his action will be purely ex gratia, the whole responsibility resting on the candidate and the instructor. No extra time will be given to a candidate to compensate for loss of time while the machine is out of order and being put right.

5. A copy of the annexed list will be posted at the school concerned a day or two before the examination, and candidates will be expected to learn their numbers from this list; these numbers are the serial numbers of the Secondary School-Leaving Certificates.

6. Attention is drawn to the following rules:—

(1) No candidate will be allowed to enter the examination room unless he wears a clean and decent dress, and in all cases where good manners require it, a suitable covering for the head, nor will he be allowed to keep his shoes on unless they are shoes of English pattern, and socks and trousers are worn also.

No candidate suffering from any contagious disease will be admitted to the examination room.

(2) No candidate will be allowed to quit the examination room on any day until the expiration of half an hour from the time fixed for the commencement of the examination, and candidates arriving after the expiration of that half hour will not be admitted.

(3) No candidate will be allowed to re-enter the examination room during the hours of examination after once quitting it, nor to leave the room without finally giving up his answers.

(4) Any candidate detected in speaking to, or in any way communicating with, any other candidate will be at once removed from the room and the circumstance reported to the Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

(5) No candidate will be allowed to take into the examination room, slates, books, ruled sheets, manuscripts or papers of any kind. Any one detected in the violation of this rule or having recourse to any unfair practices will be removed from the room and the occurrence reported to the Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

(6) Candidates whose names are not in the printed list furnished to the superintendents must submit a written declaration through the Superintendents giving full particulars in regard to themselves including their address and furnish such evidence as may be possible of their having applied for admission to the examination at the proper time and paid the prescribed fees. The answers of such candidates will not be valued unless it is clear that the omission of their names is due to no fault of theirs.

(7) Candidates choosing to change their place of examination without previous permission, or appearing at any centre other than the one at which they ought to have appeared must not expect to have their answers valued. In all cases where permission has been granted, the memorandum or letter permitting the change should be produced for the satisfaction of the Superintendents.

(8) A candidate having completed his paper will rise from his seat and remain standing until the Superintendent takes his answer-books. Any candidate wishing to ask any question of the Superintendent will pursue the same course, but will on no account leave his place.

(9) Any answer-books sent up without the candidate's name and number affixed will not be valued. The answer-books should be fastened together at the left-hand corner.

(10) Candidates will not be allowed to take any papers, except their question papers, out of the examination room.

COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION FOR ADMISSION TO THE INDIAN SUBORDINATE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT, SUB-ASSISTANT SURGEON BRANCH, 1914.

Notice is hereby given that twenty candidates will be entertained for the Indian Subordinate Medical Department, Sub-Assistant Surgeon Branch, Madras.

2. Candidates must not be below sixteen nor above twenty years of age on date of admission into Medical School, i.e., on the 1st of July next, and they must produce testimonials (in original) as to character signed by either Europeans or Indians of respectable position, and certificates of age, vaccination, personal marks and physical fitness for military service signed by a Commissioned Medical Officer of the Royal Army Medical Corps or of the Indian Medical Service, as well as certificates of having passed the necessary educational standard. Ward orderlies recommended by the Medical Officer under whom they are serving may compete for the Indian Military Pupil class under the same conditions except that in their case the maximum age limit is extended to 26 years.

3. Admission is equally open to the sons of soldiers and of persons engaged in civil occupations; but, other things being equal, preference will be given to the sons of Native Commissioned and Non-Commissioned officers and soldiers.

4. Candidates who have passed the compulsory portion of the Upper Secondary Examination or the Matriculation Examination of the Madras University or who hold completed Secondary School-Leaving Certificates will be eligible to compete; in the case of holders of these certificates, however, a selection will be made by the Surgeon-General. Students who have been dismissed from medical schools for inefficiency or misconduct are not eligible to appear for examination.

5. If the number of applicants exceed twenty, a competitive examination will be held at any Military or Civil station of the Madras Presidency or of Burma where there may be a Medical Officer to superintend the candidates.

6. The examination will be held on Friday the 15th May next, and will be conducted by means of printed papers. Candidates will have two papers to answer—one a paper on English Grammar and Language, the other a paper on Translation from English into the candidate's vernacular.

7. Applications for admission to the examination made out in manuscript in the form prescribed in this notice and accompanied with the certificates referred to in paragraph 2 above, must be sent to the Personal Assistant to the Surgeon-General with the Government of Madras in the case of holders of Secondary School Leaving Certificates and to the undersigned in other cases, on or before the 31st March 1914. Each application must be superscribed "Application for admission to the examination for Indian Military Pupils," and be accompanied with a receipt showing that the examination fee of Rupee five has been paid into a Government treasury. This fee will not be refunded, nor will it be reserved for a subsequent examination.

8. Holders of completed Secondary School Leaving Certificates should forward their certificates along with their applications. In the case of candidates who will complete their Secondary School-Leaving Certificates during the course of the current year, they should forward with their applications (1) a conduct certificate obtained from the head of their schools which should invariably be an extract from their Secondary School-Leaving Certificates and (2) an extract Certified by the head of the school showing the marks obtained at the last two terminal examinations. The original Secondary School-Leaving Certificate should be forwarded on or before the 1st June 1914 pending receipt of which selection will not be made.

9. The candidates selected will be designated "Indian Military Pupils." They will be expected to join the Medical School, Royapuram, on the 1ST OF JULY NEXT. No selected candidate will be admitted to the Medical School, unless his parent, guardian or friend executes a security bond on his behalf, before his admission, undertaking to refund to the State the cost of the pupil's education, if the latter refuses, on completion of the course, to accept service in the Indian Subordinate Medical Department, and to sign the required declaration, or, if he, before completion of the course, leaves the school without permission or is dismissed therefrom for misconduct or refuses to join the Medical School he may be posted to for training.

10. Military Sub-Assistant Surgeons will not be given their diplama until the close of their service. An Indian Military pupil who expresses his wish to abandon his studies on the completion of the course, or, who fails to pass the periodical school examinations or who misconducts himself, will be removed and all certificates to which he would otherwise have been entitled will be altogether withheld. A student who, after finishing his course, declines to sign the declaration will be similarly treated.

11. Selected candidates will undergo a scholastic training for four years, after which period if reported qualified, they will be admitted into the service as "Third-class Sub-Assistant Surgeons," and, after declaration, transferred to a Military hospital for duty. They will also be trained in Stretcher and Squad Drill.

12. One hundred good conduct marks are allotted to each pupil on admission to school from which deductions are made under the orders of the Superintendent for petty offences against discipline and for failures in examinations as detailed below; 50 marks are also allotted for drill and 50 for department, and deductions will be similarly made from these. At the end of the course the balance of credit will be added to the marks obtained by the pupil at the final examination and will thus help to determine his position on the list of Sub-Assistant Surgeons:—

Twenty marks for failure in two subjects of the first year's course; 20 marks for failure in one or two subjects of the second year's course; 30 marks for failure in any subject of the third year's course; and the balance for petty offences against discipline.

13. Indian Military pupils will be allowed in addition to free quarters, clothing and books, and appliances for study, a stipend at the rate of Rs. 7 a month throughout the whole course with Rs. 2 a month extra for knowledge of English. Instead of a stipend, ward orderly Indian Military pupils will receive their regimental pay and good conduct pay and allowances and will not be seconded in their regiments while under instruction. They will be struck off the strength of their regiments on the completion of their Medical training, when they will join the Indian Subordinate Medical Department under the usual conditions of service. These rates of pay are inclusive of compensation for dearness of provisions. Should they apply for their discharge before the expiry of this period, they must refund one-seventh of Rs. 500 for every year by which their services fall short of seven years. 2	Government Lower Elementary Training School for Panchamas, Madras.	..	27	27
3	Government Higher Elementary Training School, Saidapet	24	26	50

3. The period of training is two years in the case of the students of both the Elementary higher and lower grades.

3. The Inspector of Schools, Fourth Circle, will make the selection on the recommendation of Inspecting officers.

4. Inspecting officers are requested to forward two lists—one of selected and the other of rejected candidates.

5. The lists of selected and rejected candidates should be forwarded to the Inspector of Schools, Fourth Circle, by the Inspecting officers before the due date. The names of selected candidates should appear in the list in the order in which the Inspecting officers wish they should be taken, i.e., they should be selected in reference to their general education attainments, their service as teachers, the need for their training and the nature of their appointment and the school from which they apply for training. Candidates who do not satisfy the condition of age limit under rule 114 of the Madras Educational Rules should not, except in very special circumstances, be included in the list and the selection should be regulated, as far as possible, by rule 115. In the case of rejected candidates, the reasons for rejection should be mentioned against each.

6. To provide for the contingency of some of the candidates selected not joining the Training School, a few more than the sanctioned number will be selected by the Inspector of Schools. All selected candidates who present themselves at the Training Schools on the opening day will be admitted; those who present themselves later will be admitted in the order in which they present themselves but only up to the number of sanctioned vacancies.

7. The list should include no one who has not been a teacher before or concerning whom there is a doubt whether he really intends to make teaching his profession.

8. In the selection of candidates for training next year, those who were awarded stipends this year but were refused admission on account of their not appearing in time might have a first claim for admission.

9. In addition to Provincial stipendiaries, candidates whose stipends are paid by Local or Municipal Boards will be admitted for training, as also private candidates as free students.

10. As regards qualification for admission, only those candidates, who have passed the annual examination of the third form or seventh standard and have been found fit for promotion to the fourth form, or have been awarded an Elementary school-leaving certificate of the seventh standard, are eligible for admission into the Elementary higher class and only those who have passed the late Primary School Examination or a corresponding public or school examination or whose attainments in the opinion of the Inspecting officers are not lower than these are eligible for admission into the Elementary lower class. Preference should be given, as much as possible, to candidates whose educational attainments are above these minimum requirements. The certificate of general education should be sent in original with the application. The certificate of physical fitness need be produced only by the candidates chosen as stipendiaries. Separate conduct certificates need not be submitted by candidates whose applications are signed by an Inspecting officer.

11. In cases in which the number of candidates applying for training is in excess of the number for whom there is provision, the selection should be made as the result of an entrance examination conducted by the Sub-Assistant Inspector of Schools. The number of stipends available for each range is the same as that available last year.

12. Printed forms of applications can be obtained from the Inspector of Schools or from the subordinate Inspecting officers.

13. Applications completed in accordance with the above instructions should reach the Inspector of Schools, Fourth Circle, before the 1st May 1914.

14. Only Panchama teachers whose vernacular is Tamil should be recommended for admission into the Government Panchama Training School, Madras.

Office of the Inspector of Schools, Fourth Circle, Madras, 6th March 1914.

The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the current Civil Day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected since January 1st is 1·06 inches, the average due for the same period being 1·23 inches.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend certain enactments and to repeal certain other enactments was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th February 1914:—

We, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend certain enactments and to repeal certain other enactments was referred, have considered the Bill and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

2. We have made no change in the body of the Bill beyond correcting a misprint. As regards the Schedules we think that the wording of the amendment to Act XV of 1910 was rather too wide in its language, and we have slightly changed the drafting. We have omitted from the second Schedule the entries relating to Acts XI of 1879 and XII of 1897 as they are proposed to be totally repealed by the Local Authorities Loans Bill, which is now before the Council. Beyond certain changes of form, we have made no other alterations in the Schedules to the Bill.

3. We may explain, as there appears to be some misapprehension on the point, that only those commencement clauses have been repealed which provide that the Acts shall come into force either at once or on the passing thereof. In such cases, the date of the commencement of the Act is always printed at the top, immediately above the title, for convenience of reference, in the copies of Acts issued by Government. The Bill in this respect follows the precedent of the previous Repealing and Amending Acts of 1891 and 1903. We are informed that the practice in England is to repeal all commencement statutes.

4. The Bill was published in the Gazette of India as required by rule 22 of the Rules for the conduct of Legislative business.

5. We think that the Bill has not been so altered as to require re-publication, and we recommend that it be passed as now amended.

2. We have carefully considered the opinions which we have received suggesting that the provisions of clause 83A should not apply to existing companies. Several Members of our Committee who have practical experience of Indian Companies have also impressed upon us the fact that in the case, more particularly, of small companies considerable expense and hardship will be caused by requiring existing companies, whose constitution differs from the normal, to comply with its provisions, and we recognize that there is force in this contention. In these circumstances we have modified the clause by confining its operations to companies registered after the commencement of the Act. At the same time, however, we feel that along with the relaxation we may reasonably require new companies, to which alone the clause will now apply, to have at least two directors. The law will then prevent the anomaly of a board consisting of a single director. It was suggested to us, and we have duly considered the point, that this clause might give rise to difficulties of interpretation in connection with the definition of "director" in the main Act; but we are of opinion that the provisions of the Bill as revised by us do not touch this matter.

3. We have modified the language of clause 83B, sub-clause (iii), to meet the criticisms which have been received. As the clause now stands in the Bill, it follows very closely the language of article 84 of Table A in the first Schedule to the Act of 1913.

4. It will be observed that in the Bill as revised by us clause 83C has been deleted. The provisions of this clause have been objected to by the Bombay and Bengal Chambers of Commerce, bodies which represent an important section of commercial opinion. We here unfortunately not had the advantage of a discussion with Sir Charles Armstrong, the representative of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, for although a member of this Committee, he did not attend our meetings; but Mr. Mocatta, the representative of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, has laid his views before us. It has been suggested that the clause will be inoperative; and that, unless a much more radical modification in the general company law is made than is now contemplated, no useful purpose will be served by its retention. We do not attach much importance to this objection and we have little doubt that, with some verbal alterations, the clause might easily be made to serve the purpose for which it was intended, that is, to provide, in the case of companies managed by a firm of managing agents, for a majority of independent directors. We are, however, more influenced by another type of criticism to which the clause has been subjected. It has been pointed out that, where the shareholders in a company choose to exercise their powers, they may, in the case for which clause 83C provides, themselves elect an independent majority on the Board. It is suggested that recently enacted Indian Companies Act, 1913, provides for the supply to shareholders of such simple information concerning the management of the company that they will have a strong incentive to provide this independent directorate whenever they consider it necessary, and that the working of the Act in this direction might well be tested by experience before providing this form of directorate by law. The majority of the Committee, while agreeing that the object aimed at in clause 83C is in itself desirable, have no objection to postponing the enactment of the clause until shareholders generally have had a fair opportunity of showing whether they will exercise their undoubted powers in this connection. The clause has therefore been withdrawn. We regret that this withdrawal has been opposed by certain members who desire its immediate enactment as will appear from the dissentient minute which is attached to this Report.

5. We have received proposals for the insertion of three exceptions to the rule laid down by clause 91A of the Bill submitted to us. The first was that preliminary agreements specifically mentioned in the memorandum or articles of association should be excluded. We think on the whole that no such exception need be provided, and we have discarded the suggestion. The second suggestion was that contracts of indemnity entered into by the directors on behalf of the company should be excluded, and this suggestion we have accepted and given effect to in the Bill. We have also accepted the suggestion that, where a director is a member of any specified firm or company, a general notice of the fact shall be a sufficient disclosure to his fellow directors of such fact for the purposes of future transactions with such firm or company. Criticism has been directed to the fact that no penalty was annexed to the first portion of clause 91A as it stood in the Bill submitted to us. This point did not escape attention when these clauses were considered last year by the Select Committee of which most of us were members, and considerable difference of opinion was then disclosed as to the expediency of such a penalty. We, however, are now satisfied, in view of the opinions we have received, that no valid objection exists to the imposition of a definite penalty for breach of the provisions in question and we have accordingly provided one. In view of the provisos we have added, we have considered it desirable to redraft and break up the first part of clause 91A as it stood in the Bill referred to us. It now appears in the Bill annexed to this Report as clause 91A and clause 91B.

6. We have very carefully examined the drafting of clause 91B, sub-clause (iii) (c), in view of the criticisms thereon which have been received from quarters which naturally command our greatest respect; but it seems to us, after full consideration, that the Bill as drawn is not susceptible of misconception, and that any alteration would not be an improvement, as the clause seems to us to give effect to our intention. The case contemplated is one where the company (A) is the undisclosed principal, and (B) is the agent contracting on behalf of the undisclosed principal, and (C) is the third party. It appears to us that as regards (A) and (C) there can be no privity of contract, and that the contract referred to in the clause must be the contract between the Company and the agent; and that in giving the company the option of disclaiming its agent's action, if he fails to comply with the statutory directions of the clause, we have imposed no harsh or inequitable rule. The third party merely had the agent to look to when he made the contract and will still have the agent to look to in the circumstances contemplated by the sub-clause.

7. Beyond slight verbal alterations, we have made no other change in the Bill.

* Subject to Minute of Dissent.

MINUTE OF DISSENT BY SIR IBRAHIM RAHIMTOOLA.

I do not agree with the decision of the majority of the Select Committee to delete clause 83C. The Committee in explaining the reasons which have influenced them to omit the clause say: "We are however more influenced by another type of criticism to which the clause has been subjected. It has been pointed out that where the shareholders in a Company choose to exercise their powers, they may in the case for which clause 83C provides themselves elect an independent majority on the Board. It is suggested that the recently enacted Indian Companies Act provides for the supply to shareholders of such ample information concerning the management of the Company that they will have a strong incentive to provide this independent directorate whenever they consider it necessary, and that the working of the Act in this direction might well be tested by experience before providing this form of directorate by law. The majority of the Committee, while agreeing that the object aimed at in clause 83C is in itself desirable, have no objection to postponing the enactment of the clause until shareholders generally have had a fair opportunity of showing whether they will exercise their undoubted powers in this connection."

The appointment of the directors has always been in the hands of the shareholders. The Indian Companies Act of 1882 distinctly laid this down. Ample experience has been gained during more than 30 years to show that this power has not been in reality exercised by the shareholders. What is the use therefore of waiting some years more before enacting a wholesome provision like this one? It is necessary to change the nature of the shareholders before expecting that the greater information which will now be available under the law will have the effect of bringing them to the point of exercising that potent influence in the management of Joint Stock Companies, which it is their right to do. But even assuming for argument's sake that a new spirit will arise amongst the shareholders as a body, and that they will elect independent men as directors, where is then the objection to enact the clause now. The Select Committee is unanimous in holding that this clause is desirable. The answer therefore to the objections of the majority is simple enough. If the shareholders of any Company exercise the powers vesting in them and manage to secure a majority of independent directors, the enactment of the clause can be open to no objection. If, however, the shareholders of any Company are so indifferent as not to exercise such powers, the law ought to come to their rescue and make it compulsory that it shall be done. If the clause is desirable in the general public interests why not enact it now, instead of waiting for experience, which has been abundantly gained during more than 30 years of the working of the Company law? Those of us who are conversant with the working of companies by managing agents and the apathy and indifference of shareholders as a body cannot but strongly press that the wholesome provision embodied in clause 83C should be enacted now and not at a later and indefinite date.

The object of company legislation is to protect the interests of the shareholders. It is because the interests of the shareholders as a body require protection that the State legislates for the purpose. If the shareholders were capable of looking after their corporate interests effectively many of the clauses which now find place in Company law would be superfluous. Such being the case, I think it is necessary that this Council should proceed to enact the clause now instead of waiting for an indefinite period.

The power of appointing auditors has vested in the shareholders all this time. The manner in which they have exercised this right is also known. Why is that power not continued to the shareholders as freely and as independently as before in view of the fact that so much information will now be available to them and that they may be expected to appoint the right persons as auditors? Why has the State taken power to lay down from what class of people the auditors shall be chosen?

I should like to invite the attention of the Council to the Statement of Objects and Reasons which was published as justifying the present legislation. It is stated therein that "The object of this Bill is to supplement the Indian Companies Act in respect of certain matters relating to the internal management of Companies. This supplemental legislation was considered desirable by the Select Committee of the latter Bill in view of the system to a large extent peculiar to India by which some Companies are managed by firms of managing agents whose relationship to the Companies they manage is different from that of a director to his company in England..... The provisions of this Bill are designed to secure, firstly, that every Company should have directors, secondly, that the majority of the directors of every Company shall be independent of the managing agents, exception being made in the case of private Companies and of Companies in which the managing agents themselves hold a predominant voting power, thirdly ....."

By the omission of the clause in question, one of the most important objects with which this legislation was undertaken will be defeated.

I do not wish to lengthen this Minute by stating here several other reasons which I intend to advance in support of the retention of the clause in question. I reserve them for the debate on the subject.

IBRAHIM RAHIMTOOLA.

MINUTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE MESSRS. V. R. PANDIT AND C. VIJIARAGHAVACHARIAR.

We regret the necessity for having to dissent from the Report approved in its entirety by a majority of our colleagues on the Select Committee. We hold very strongly the view that the deletion of clause 89C of the Bill referred to the Committee is unjustifiable and will tend very largely to frustrate the object with which the Bill was introduced into the Legislative Council. The provisions of that clause had practically received the unanimous support of the Select Committee which considered the Bill subsequently passed as the Indian Companies' Act, 1913, and although in deference to the desire expressed in certain quarters for a formal circulation of the provisions of the Bill of this year the clauses embodying them were held over and the fullest circulation given to them they have again received the unanimous support of all the Local Governments and very strong support from most of the other officials as well as from all save a few of the non official bodies and gentlemen consulted. We have carefully considered the opinions which were opposed to the provisions of clause 89C but we fail to find therein any new arguments or points of view which were not before the Select Committee of last year. We cannot also, we regret to say, subscribe to the view of the majority of our colleagues as to the weight to be attached to the type of criticism referred to in the Report as having influenced them and as to the advisibility of postponing the enactment of the clause, and we adhere to our view expressed in the Select Committee as to the necessity for their enactment on the present occasion.

2. We also respectfully dissent from the view of the majority of our colleagues that companies registered up to the 1st April, 1914, should be excluded from the purview of clause 81A of the Bill as originally drafted or in other words exempted from the obligation to have at least two directors. This exemption would materially impair the utility of the present Bill, which was introduced with the main object of seeing that no company which was not a private company carried on business without having such a minimum number of directors.

PART I.

IMPERIAL COPYRIGHT.

Right.

Copyright.

1. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, copyright shall subsist throughout the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends for the term hereinafter mentioned in every original literary dramatic musical and artistic work, if—

(a) in the case of a published work, the work was first published within such parts of His Majesty's dominions as aforesaid; and

(b) in the case of an unpublished work, the author was at the date of the making of the work a British subject or resident within such parts of His Majesty's dominions as aforesaid;

but in no other works except so far as the protection conferred by this Act is extended by Orders in Council thereunder relating to self-governing dominions to which this Act does not extend and to foreign countries.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, "copyright" means the sole right to produce or reproduce the work or any substantial part thereof in any material form whatsoever, to perform, or in the case of a lecture to deliver, the work or any substantial part thereof in public; if the work is unpublished, to publish the work or any substantial part thereof; and shall include the sole right—

(d) in the case of a literary, dramatic, or musical work, to make any record, perforated roll, cinematograph film, or other contrivance by means of which the work may be mechanically performed or delivered; and to authorise any such acts as aforesaid.

(3) For the purposes of this Act, publication, in relation to any work, means the issue of copies of the work to the public, and does not include the performance in public of a dramatic or musical work, the delivery in public of a lecture, the exhibition in public of an artistic work, or the construction of an architectural work of art, but, for the purposes of this provision, the issue of photographs and engravings of works of sculpture and architectural works of art shall not be deemed to be publication of such works.

Infringement of copyright.

2. (1) Copyright in a work shall be deemed to be infringed by any person who, without the consent of the owner of the copyright, does anything the sole right to do which is by this Act conferred on the owner of the copyright: Provided that the following acts shall not constitute an infringement of copyright :—

(i) Any fair dealing with any work for the purposes of private study, research, criticism, review, or newspaper summary :

(ii) Where the author of an artistic work is not the owner of the copyright therein, the use by the author of any mould, cast, sketch, plan, model, or study made by him for the purpose of the work, provided that he does not thereby repeat or imitate the main design of that work :

(iii) The making or publishing of paintings, drawings, engravings, or photographs of a work of sculpture or artistic craftsmanship, if permanently situate in a public place or building, or the making or publishing of paintings, drawings, engravings or photographs (which are not in the nature of architectural drawings or plans) of any architectural work of art :

(iv) The publication in a collection, mainly composed of non-copyright matter, bona fide intended for the use of schools, and so described in the title and in any advertisements issued by the publisher, a short passages from published literary works not themselves published for the use of schools in which copyright subsists: Provided that not more than two of such passages from works by the same author are published by the same publisher within five years, and that the source from which such passages are taken is acknowledged :

(v) The publication in a newspaper of a report of a lecture delivered in public, unless the report is prohibited by conspicuous written or printed notice affixed before and maintained during the lecture at or about the main entrance of the building in which the lecture is given, and, except whilst the building is being used for public worship, in a position near the lecturer; but nothing in this paragraph shall affect the provisions in paragraph (i) as to newspaper summaries :

(vi) The reading or recitation in public by one person of any reasonable extract from any published work.

(2) Copyright in a work shall also be deemed to be infringed by any person who—

(a) sells or lets for hire, or by way of trade exposes or offers for sale or hire; or

(b) distributes either for the purposes of trade or to such an extent as to affect prejudicially the owner of the copyright; or

(c) by way of trade exhibits in public; or

(d) imports for sale or hire into any part of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, any work which to his knowledge infringes copyright or would infringe copyright if it had been made within the part of His Majesty's dominions in or into which the sale or hiring, exposure, offering for sale or hire, distribution, exhibition, or importation took place.

(3) Copyright in a work shall also be deemed to be infringed by any person who for his private profit permits a theatre or other place of entertainment to be used for the performance in public of the work without the consent of the owner of the copyright, unless he was not aware, and had no reasonable ground for suspecting, that the performance would be an infringement of copyright.

Term of copyright.

The term for which copyright shall subsist shall, except as otherwise expressly provided by this Act, be the life of the author and a period of fifty years after his death:

Provided that at any time after the expiration of twenty-five years, or in the case of a work in which copyright subsists at the passing of this Act thirty years, from the death of the author of a published work, copyright in the work shall not be deemed to be infringed by the reproduction of the work for sale if the person reproducing the work proves that he has given the prescribed notice in writing of his intention to reproduce the work, and that he has paid in the prescribed manner to, or for the benefit of, the owner of the copyright royalties in respect of all copies of the work sold by him calculated at the rate of ten per cent. on the price at which he publishes the work; and, for the purposes of this proviso, the Board of Trade may make regulations prescribing the mode in which notices are to be given, and the particulars to be given in such notices, and the mode, time, and frequency of the payment of royalties, including (if they think fit) regulations requiring payment in advance or otherwise securing the payment of royalties.

Compulsory licences.

4. If, at any time after the death of the author of a literary, dramatic, or musical work which has been published or performed in public, a complaint is made to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council that the owner of the copyright in the work has refused to republish or to allow the republication of the work or has refused to allow the performance in public of the work and that by reason of such refusal the work is withheld from the public, the owner of the copyright may be ordered to grant a licence to reproduce the work or perform the work in public, as the case may be, on such terms and subject to such conditions as the Judicial Committee may think fit.

Ownership of copyright, etc.

5. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the author of a work shall be the first owner of the copyright therein:

Provided that—

(a) where, in the case of an engraving, photograph, or portrait, the plate or other original was ordered by some other person and was made for valuable consideration in pursuance of that order, then, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, the person by whom such plate or other original was ordered shall be the first owner of the copyright;

(b) where the author was in the employment of some other person under a contract of service or apprenticeship and the work was made in the course of his employment by that person, the person by whom the author was employed shall, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, be the first owner of the copyright, but where the work is an article or other contribution to a newspaper, magazine, or similar periodical, there shall, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, be deemed to be reserved to the author a right to restrain the publication of the work, otherwise than as part of a newspaper, magazine, or similar periodical.

(2) The owner of the copyright in any work may assign the right, either wholly or partially, and either generally or subject to limitations to the United Kingdom or any self-governing dominion or other part of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, and either for the whole term of the copyright or for any part thereof, and may grant any interest in the right by licence, but no such assignment or grant shall be valid unless it is in writing signed by the owner of the right in respect of which the assignment or grant is made, or by his duly authorised agent:

Provided that, where the author of a work is the first owner of the copyright therein, no assignment of the copyright, and no grant of any interest therein, made by him (otherwise than by will) after the passing of this Act, shall be operative to vest in the assignee or grantee any rights with respect to the copyright in the work beyond the expiration of twenty-five years from the death of the author, and the reversionary interest in the copyright expectant on the termination of that period shall, on the death of the author, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, devolve on his legal personal representatives as part of his estate, and any agreement entered into by him as to the disposition of such reversionary interest shall be null and void, but nothing in this proviso shall be construed as applying to the assignment of the copyright in a collective work or a licence to publish a work or part of a work as part of a collective work.

(3) Where, under any partial assignment of copyright, the assignee becomes entitled to any right comprised in copyright, the assignee, as respects the right so assigned, and the assignor as respects the rights not assigned, shall be treated for the purposes of this Act as the owner of the copyright, and the provisions of this Act shall have effect accordingly.

Civil Remedies.

Civil remedies for infringement of copyright.

6. (1) Where copyright in any work has been infringed, the owner of the copyright shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be entitled to all such remedies by way of injunction or interdict, damages, accounts and otherwise, as are or may be conferred by law for the infringement of a right.

(2) The costs of all parties in any proceedings in respect of the infringement of copyright shall be in the absolute discretion of the Court.

(3) In any action for infringement of copyright in any work, the work shall be presumed to be a work in which copyright subsists and the plaintiff shall be presumed to be the owner of the copyright, unless the defendant puts in issue the existence of the copyright, or as the case may be, the title of the plaintiff, and where any such question is in issue, then—

(a) if a name purporting to be that of the author of the work is printed or otherwise indicated thereon in the usual manner, the person whose name is so printed or indicated shall, unless the contrary is proved, be presumed to be the author of the work;

(b) if no name is so printed or indicated, or if the name so printed or indicated is not the author's true name or the name by which he is commonly known and a name purporting to be that of the publisher or proprietor of the work is printed or otherwise indicated thereon in the usual manner, the person whose name is so printed or indicated shall, unless the contrary is proved, be presumed to be the owner of the copyright in the work for the purposes of proceedings in respect of the infringement of copyright therein.

Rights of owner against persons possessing or dealing with infringing copies, etc.

7. All infringing copies of any work in which copyright subsists, or of any substantial part thereof, and all plates used or intended to be used for the production of such infringing copies, shall be deemed to be the property of the owner of the copyright, who accordingly may take proceedings for the recovery of the possession thereof or in respect of the conversion thereof.

Exemption of innocent infringer from liability to pay damages, etc.

8. Where proceedings are taken in respect of the infringement of the copyright in any work and the defendant in his defence alleges that he was not aware of the existence of the copyright in the work, the plaintiff shall not be entitled to any remedy other than an injunction or interdict in respect of the infringement if the defendant proves that at the date of the infringement he was not aware and had not reasonable ground for suspecting that copyright subsisted in the work.

Restriction on remedy in the case of architecture.

9. (1) Where the construction of a building or other structure which infringes or which, if completed, would infringe the copyright in some other work has been commenced, the owner of the copyright shall not be entitled to obtain an injunction or interdict to restrain the construction of such building or structure or to order its demolition.

(2) Such of the other provisions of this Act as provide that an infringing copy of a work shall be deemed to be the property of the owner of the copyright, or as impose summary penalties, shall not apply in any case to which this section applies.

Importation of Copies.

Importation of copies.

14. (1) Copies made out of the United Kingdom of any work in which copyright subsists which if made in the United Kingdom would infringe copyright, and as to which the owner of the copyright gives notice in writing by himself or his agent to the Commissioners of Customs and Excise, that he is desirous that such copies should not be imported into the United Kingdom, shall not be so imported, and shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be deemed to be included in the table of prohibitions and restrictions contained in section forty two of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, and that section shall apply accordingly.

39 & 40 Vict., c. 36

(2) Before detaining any such copies or taking any further proceedings with a view to the forfeiture thereof under the law relating to the Customs, the Commissioners of Customs and Excise may require the regulations under this section whether as to information, conditions, or other matters, to be complied with, and may satisfy themselves in accordance with those regulations that the copies are such as are prohibited by this section to be imported.

(3) The Commissioners of Customs and Excise may make regulations, either general or special, respecting the detention and forfeiture of copies the importation of which is prohibited by this section, and the conditions, if any, to be fulfilled before such detention and forfeiture, and may, by such regulations, determine the information, notices, and security to be given, and the evidence requisite for any of the purposes of this section, and the mode of verification of such evidence.

(4) The regulations may apply to copies of all works the importation of copies of which is prohibited by this section, or different regulations may be made respecting different classes of such works.

(5) The regulations may provide for the informant reimbursing the Commissioners of Customs and Excise all expenses and damages incurred in respect of any detention made on his information, and of any proceedings consequent on such detention; and may provide for notices under any enactment repealed by this Act being treated as notices given under this section.

(6) The foregoing provisions of this section shall have effect as if they were part of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876: Provided that, notwithstanding anything in that Act, the Isle of Man shall not be treated as part of the United Kingdom for the purposes of this section.

(7) This section shall, with the necessary modifications, apply to the importation into a British possession to which this Act extends of copies of works made out of that possession.

Delivery of Books to Libraries.

Delivery of copies to British Museum and other libraries.

15. (1) The publisher of every book published in the United Kingdom shall, within one month after the publication, deliver, at his own expense, a copy of the book to the trustees of the British Museum, who shall give a written receipt for it.

(2) He shall also, if written demand is made before the expiration of twelve months after publication, deliver within one month after receipt of that written demand or, if the demand was made before publication, within one month after publication, to some depot in London named in the demand a copy of the book for, or in accordance with the directions of, the authority having the control of each of the following libraries, namely:—the Bodleian Library, Oxford, the University Library, Cambridge, the Library of the Faculty of Advocates at Edinburgh, and the Library of Trinity College, Dublin, and, subject to the provisions of this section, the National Library of Wales. In the case of an encyclopædia, newspaper review, magazine, or work published in a series of numbers or parts, the written demand may include all numbers or parts of the work which may be subsequently published.

(5) The copy delivered to the trustees of the British Museum shall be a copy of the whole book with all maps and illustrations belonging thereto, finished and coloured in the same manner as the best copies of the book are published, and shall be bound, sewed, or stitched together, and on the best paper on which the book is printed.

(4) The copy delivered for the other authorities mentioned in this section shall be on the paper on which the largest number of copies of the book is printed for sale, and shall be in the like condition as the books prepared for sale.

(5) The books of which copies are to be delivered to the National Library of Wales shall not include books of such classes as may be specified in regulations to be made by the Board of Trade.

(6) If a publisher fails to comply with this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds and the value of the book, and the fine shall be paid to the trustees or authority to whom the book ought to have been delivered.

(7) For the purposes of this section, the expression "book" includes every part or division of a book, pamphlet, sheet of letter press, sheet of music, map, plan, chart or table separately published, but shall not include any second or subsequent edition of a book unless such edition contains additions or alterations either in the letter-press or in the maps, prints, or other engravings belonging thereto.

Special Provisions as to certain Works.

Works of joint authors.

15. (1) In the case of a work of joint authorship, copyright shall subsist during the life of the author who first dies and for a term of fifty years after his death, or during the life of the author who dies last, whichever period is the longer, and references in this Act to the period after the expiration of any specified number of years from the death of the author shall be construed as references to the period after the expiration of the like number of years from the death of the author who dies first or after the death of the author who dies last, whichever period may be the shorter, and in the provisions of this Act with respect to the grant of compulsory licenses a reference to the date of the death of the author who dies last shall be substituted for the reference to the date of the death of the author.

(2) Where, in the case of a work of joint authorship some one or more of the joint authors do not satisfy the conditions conferring copyright laid down by this Act, the work shall be treated for the purposes of this Act as if the other author or authors had been the sole author or authors thereof:

Provided that the term of the copyright shall be the same as it would have been if all the authors had satisfied such conditions as aforesaid.

(3) For the purposes of this Act, "a work of joint authorship" means a work produced by the collaboration of two or more authors in which the contribution of one author is not distinct from the contribution of the other author or authors.

(4) Where a married woman and her husband are joint authors of a work the interest of such married woman therein shall be her separate property.

Posthumous works.

17. (1) In the case of a literary, dramatic or musical work, or an engraving, in which copyright subsists at the date of the death of the author or, in the case of a work of joint authorship, at or immediately before the date of the death of the author who dies last, but which has not been published nor, in the case of a dramatic or musical work, been performed in public, nor, in the case of a lecture, been delivered in public, before that date, copyright shall subsist till publication, or performance or delivery in public, whichever may first happen, and for a term of fifty years thereafter, and the proviso to section three of this Act shall, in the case of such a work, apply as if the author had died at the date of such publication or performance or delivery in public as aforesaid.

(2) The ownership of an author's manuscript after his death, where such ownership has been acquired under a testamentary disposition made by the author and the manuscript is of a work which has not been published nor performed in public nor delivered in public, shall be prima facie proof of the copyright being with the owner of the manuscript.

Provisions as to Government publications.

18. Without prejudice to any rights or privileges of the Crown, where any work has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, been prepared or published by or under the direction or control of His Majesty or any Government department, the copyright in the work shall, subject to any agreement with the author, belong to His Majesty, and in such case shall continue for a period of fifty years from the date of the first publication of the work.

Provisions as to mechanical instruments.

19. (1) Copyright shall subsist in records, perforated rolls, and other contrivances by means of which sounds may be mechanically reproduced, in like manner as if such contrivances were musical works, but the term of copyright shall be fifty years from the making of the original plate from which the contrivance was directly or indirectly derived, and the person who was the owner of such original plate at the time when such plate was made shall be deemed to be the author of the work, and, where such owner is a body corporate, the body corporate shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to reside within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends if it has established a place of business within such parts.

(2) It shall not be deemed to be an infringement of copyright in any musical work for any person to make within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, records, perforated rolls or other contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed, if such person proves—

(a) that such contrivances have previously been made by, or with the consent or acquiescence of, the owner of the copyright in the work; and

(b) that he has given the prescribed notice of his intention to make the contrivances, and has paid to the prescribed manner to, or for the benefit of, the owner of the copyright in the work royalties in respect of all such contrivances sold by him, calculated at the rate hereinafter mentioned :

Provided that—

(i) nothing in this provision shall authorise any alterations in, or omissions from, the work reproduced, unless contrivances reproducing the work subject to similar alterations and omissions have been previously made by, or with the consent or acquiescence of, the owner of the copyright, or unless such alterations or omissions are reasonably necessary for the adaptation of the work to the contrivances in question ; and

(ii) for the purposes of this provision, a musical work shall be deemed to include any words so closely associated therewith as to form part of the same work, but shall not be deemed to include a contrivance by means of which sounds may be mechanically reproduced.

(3) The rate at which such royalties as aforesaid are to be calculated shall—

(a) in the case of contrivances sold within two years after the commencement of this Act by the person making the same, be two and one-half per cent ; and on the ordinary retail selling price of the contrivance calculated in the prescribed manner, so however that the royalty payable in respect of a contrivance shall, in no case, be less than a half-penny for each separate musical work in which copyright subsists reproduced thereon, and, where the royalty calculated as aforesaid includes a fraction of a farthing, such fraction shall be reckoned as a farthing :

(b) in the case of contrivances sold as aforesaid after the expiration of that period, be five per cent.,

Provided that, if, at any time after the expiration of seven years from the commencement of this Act, it appears to the Board of Trade that such rate as aforesaid is no longer equitable, the Board of Trade may, after holding a public inquiry, make an order either decreasing or increasing that rate to such extent as under the circumstances may seem just, but any order so made shall be provisional only and shall not have any effect unless and until confirmed by Parliament ; but, where an order revising the rate has been so made and confirmed, no further revision shall be made before the expiration of fourteen years from the date of the last revision.

(4) If any such contrivance is made reproducing two or more different works in which copyright subsists and the owners of the copyright therein are different persons, the sums payable by way of royalties under this section shall be apportioned amongst the several owners of the copyright in such proportions as, failing agreement, may be determined by arbitration.

(5) When any such contrivances by means of which a musical work may be mechanically performed have been made, then, for the purposes of this section, the owner of the copyright in the work shall, in relation to any person who makes the prescribed inquiries, be deemed to have given his consent to the making of such contrivances if he fails to reply to such inquiries within the prescribed time.

(6) For the purposes of this section, the Board of Trade may make regulations prescribing anything which under this section is to be prescribed, and prescribing the mode in which notices are to be given and the particulars to be given in such notices, and the mode, time, and frequency of the payment of royalties, and any such regulations may, if the Board think fit, include regulations requiring payment in advance or otherwise securing the payment of royalties.

(7) In the case of musical works published before the commencement of this Act, the foregoing provisions shall have effect, subject to the following modifications and additions :

(a) The conditions as to the previous making by, or with the consent or acquiescence of, the owner of the copyright in the work, and the restrictions as to alterations in or omissions from the work shall not apply :

(b) The rate of two and one half per cent. shall be substituted for the rate of five per cent. as the rate at which royalties are to be calculated, but no royalties shall be payable in respect of contrivances sold before the first day of July, nineteen hundred and thirteen, if contrivances reproducing the same work had been lawfully made, or placed on sale, within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends before the first day of July, nineteen hundred and ten :

(c) Notwithstanding any assignment made before the passing of this Act of the copyright in a musical work, any rights conferred by this Act in respect of the making, or authorising the making, of contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed shall belong to the author or his legal personal representatives and not to the assignees, and the royalties aforesaid shall be payable to, and for the benefit of, the author of the work or his legal personal representatives :

(d) The saving contained in this Act of the rights and interests arising from, or in connexion with, action taken before the commencement of this Act shall not be construed as authorising any person who has made contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed to sell any such contrivances, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, except on the terms and subject to the conditions laid down in this section :

(e) Where the work is a work on which copyright is conferred by an Order in Council relating to a foreign country, the copyright so conferred shall not, except to such extent as may be provided by the Order, include any rights with respect to the making of records, perforated rolls, or other contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed.

(8) Notwithstanding anything in this Act where a record, perforated roll, or other contrivance by means of which sounds may be mechanically reproduced has been made before the commencement of this Act, copyright shall, as from the commencement of this Act, subsist therein in like manner and for the like term as if this Act had been in force at the date of the making of the original plate from which the contrivance was directly or indirectly derived :

Provided that—

(i) the person who at the commencement of this Act, is the owner of such original plate shall be the first owner of such copyright ; and

(ii) nothing in this provision shall be construed as conferring copyright in any such contrivance if the making thereof would have infringed copyright in some other such contrivance, if this provision had been in force at the time of the making of the first-mentioned contrivance.

Provision as to political speeches.

20. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, it shall not be an infringement of copyright in an address of a political nature delivered at a public meeting to publish a report thereof in a newspaper

Provisions as to photographs.

21. The term for which copyright shall subsist in photographs shall be fifty years from the making of the original negative from which the photograph was directly or indirectly derived, and the person who was owner of such negative at the time when such negative was made shall be deemed to be the author of the work, and, where such owner is a body corporate, the body corporate shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to reside within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends if it has established a place of business within such parts.

Provisions as to designs, registrable under 7 Edw. 7, c. 29.

22. (1) This Act shall not apply to designs capable of being registered under the Patents and Designs Act, 1907, except designs which, though capable of being so registered, are not used or intended to be used as models or patterns to be multiplied by any industrial process.

(2) General rules under section eighty-six of the Patents and Designs Act, 1907, may be made for determining the conditions under which a design shall be deemed to be used for such purposes as aforesaid.

Works of foreign authors first published in parts of His Majesty's dominions to which Act extends.

23. If it appears to His Majesty that a foreign country does not give, or has not undertaken to give, adequate protection to the works of British authors, it shall be lawful for His Majesty by Order in Council to direct that such of the provisions of this Act as confer copyright on works first published within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, shall not apply to works published after the date specified in the Order, the authors whereof are subjects or citizens of such foreign country, and are not resident in His Majesty's dominions, and thereupon those provisions shall not apply to such works

Existing works.

24. (1) Where any person is immediately before the commencement of this Act entitled to any such right in any work as is specified in the first column of the First Schedule to this Act, or to any interest in such a right, he shall, as from that date, be entitled to the substituted right set forth in the second column of that schedule, or to the same interest in such a substituted right, and to no other right or interest, and such substituted right shall subsist for the term for which it would have subsisted if this Act had been in force at the date when the work was made and the work had been one entitled to copyright thereunder :

Provided that—

(a) if the author of any work in which any such right as is specified in the first column of the First Schedule to this Act subsists at the commencement of this Act has, before that date, assigned the right or granted any interest therein for the whole term of the right, then at the date when, but for the passing of this Act, the right would have expired the substituted right conferred by this section shall, in the absence of express agreement, pass to the author of the work, and any interest therein created before the commencement of this Act and then subsisting shall determine ; but the person who immediately before the date at which the right would so have expired was the owner of the right or interest shall be entitled at his option either—

(i) on giving such notice as hereinafter mentioned, to an assignment of the right or the grant of a similar interest therein for the remainder of the term of the right for such consideration as, failing agreement, may be determined by arbitration ; or

(ii) without any such assignment or grant, to continue to reproduce or perform the work in like manner as theretofore subject to the payment, if demanded by the author within three years after the date at which the right would have so expired, of such royalties to the author as, failing agreement, may be determined by arbitration ; or, where the work is incorporated in a collective work and the owner of the right or interest is the proprietor of that collective work, without any such payment ;

The notice above referred to must be given not more than one year nor less than six months before the date at which the right would have so expired, and must be sent by registered post to the author, or, if he cannot with reasonable diligence be found advertised in the London Gazette and in two London newspapers ;

(b) where any person has, before the twenty-sixth day of July, nineteen hundred and ten, taken any action whereby he has incurred any expenditure or liability in connexion with the reproduction or performance of any work in a manner which at the time was lawful, or for the purpose of or with a view to the reproduction or performance of a work at a time when such reproduction or performance would, but for the passing of this Act, have been lawful, nothing in this section shall diminish or prejudice any rights or interest arising from or in connexion with such action which are subsisting and valuable at the said date, unless the person who by virtue of this section becomes entitled to restrain such reproduction or performance agrees to pay such compensation as, failing agreement may be determined by arbitration.

(2) For the purposes of this section the expression "author" includes the legal personal representatives of a deceased author.

(3) Subject to the provisions of section nineteen, sub-sections (7) and (8) and of section thirty-three of this Act, copyright shall not subsist in any work made before the commencement of this Act, otherwise than under, and in accordance with, the provisions of this section.

Application to British Possessions.

Application of Act to British dominions.

28. (1) This Act, except such of the provisions thereof as are expressly restricted to the United Kingdom, shall extend throughout His Majesty's dominions: Provided that it shall not extend to a self-governing dominion, unless declared by the Legislature of that dominion to be in force therein either without any modifications or additions, or with such modifications and additions relating exclusively to procedure and remedies, as are necessary to adapt this Act to the circumstances of the dominion, as may be enacted by such Legislature.

(2) If the Secretary of State certifies by notice published in the London Gazette that any self-governing dominion has passed legislation under which works, the authors whereof were at the date of the making of the works British subjects resident elsewhere than in the dominion or (not being British subjects) were resident in the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, enjoy within the dominion rights substantially identical with those conferred by this Act, then, whilst such legislation continues in force, the dominion shall, for the purposes of the rights conferred by this Act, be treated as if it were a dominion to which this Act extends; and it shall be lawful for the Secretary of State to give such a certificate as aforesaid, notwithstanding that the remedies for enforcing the rights, or the restrictions on the importation of copies of works, manufactured in a foreign country, under the law of the dominion, differ from those under this Act.

Legislative powers of self governing dominions.

29. (1) The Legislature of any self-governing dominion may, at any time, repeal all or any of the enactments relating to copyright passed by Parliament (including this Act) so far as they are operative within that dominion: Provided that no such repeal shall prejudicially affect any legal rights existing at the time of the repeal, and that, on this Act or any part thereof being so repealed by the Legislature of a self governing dominion, that dominion shall cease to be a dominion to which this Act extends.

(2) In any self governing dominion to which this Act does not extend the enactments repealed by this Act shall, so far as they are operative in that dominion, continue in force until repealed by the Legislature of that dominion.

(3) Where His Majesty in Council is satisfied that the law of a self-governing dominion to which this Act does not extend provides adequate protection within the dominion for the works (whether published or unpublished) of authors who at the time of the making of the work were British subjects residing elsewhere than in that dominion, His Majesty in Council may, for the purpose of giving reciprocal protection, direct that this Act, except such parts (if any) thereof as may be specified in the order, and subject to any conditions contained therein, shall, within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, apply to works the authors whereof were, at the time of the making of the work, resident within the first mentioned dominion, and to works first published in that dominion; but, save as provided by such an Order, works the authors whereof were resident in a dominion to which this Act does not extend shall not, whether they are British subjects or not, be entitled to any protection under this Act except such protection as is by this Act conferred on works first published within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends:

Provided that no such Order shall confer any rights within a self governing dominion, but the Governor in Council of any self governing dominion to which this Act extends, may, by Order, confer within that dominion the like rights as His Majesty in Council is, under the foregoing provisions of this sub-section, authorised to confer within other parts of His Majesty's dominions.
